PNEUACADEMY

Pneumatix offers unique opportunities within the South African tertiary education context. Students interested in studying various courses through distance learning institutions, may register with Pneumatix for the total Pneumatix experience WHILE they study. Don't stay at home and study while gaining NO experience and learning ONLY the academic aspects of your chosen direction. Pneumatix can offer so much more, that even regular universities can not (in fact many institutions are now being compelled to offer Practical/Experience Integrated Learning as part of their curriculum):

- A safe, well-maintained environment conducive to hard work and study.
- Fellowship and student camaraderie with many other like-minded students from different study directions.
- A structured Pneumatix programme of discipleship, life-skills, character-building discipline and ministry.
- Two periods of ministry tour for a total of 6 weeks to various destinations around South Africa with the entire student body, ministering the Gospel of Jesus Christ to communities.
- Student life-coaching by full-time coaches on staff and living on campus - a unique concept in South African tertiary education!
- Relevant experiential learning opportunities arranged by Pneumatix to help prepare you for the eventual career you envisage, as well as complementary to the study direction of your choice.
- Relevant tutelage and/or discussion classes with professionals in the field, where allowed by the distance learning institute through which the student is registered.

Courses That Suite The Pneumatix Culture And Ministry:

Not all academic courses will suite the Pneumatix culture or established ministry "set-up" at the Pneumatix campus in Somerset West. The following are courses that will naturally be complemented by the strong Christian ethos and culture at Pneumatix:

- Theology (to become a church leader, or a youth or children's pastor or missionary; or even simply to study Theology for your own spiritual formation)
- Psychology
- Teaching
- or any distance learning course which might result in a generic bachelor of arts degree (or similar) which will benefit from an institution such as Pneumatix.

Admission Requirements

To register for such a degree program, one of the following is required:

- At least the admission requirements of the institution with which you will register.
- National Senior Certificate as certified by Umalusi, with an achievement rating of 4 (50-59%) or better.
- A tertiary qualification at an accredited institution by the Department of Education.
- A tertiary qualification at a foreign institution accredited by a recognized accrediting body or by the institution's national government.
- The stipulated deposit and registration fees have to be paid and up to date as determined by Pneumatix

Course Structure

Pneumatix has established relationships with various institutions which offer Bachelor of Theology and Bachelor of Arts degrees (South African NQF Level 6-7 qualifications). These institutions are accredited with the Council for Higher Education (CHE) in the Department of Higher Education and Training (DHET) of South Africa.

Students will follow the progress guidelines provided by the institution with which they are registered within a monitored and supervised structure provided at the Pneumatix campus.

Pneumatix has defined this structure so that students may maintain a healthy balance of experiential learning, a busy student life, and academic progress. Progress is therefore based on the student's capacity for self-study and not forced upon them within a rigid system of learning. However, Pneumatix expects of their student to commit to a three-year learning process (because the Pneumatix programme is structured for three years of learning and maturation) while Pneumatix does everything in their capacity to assist the student to progress as far as possible with their academic studies.

Our History

Since 1991 Francois de Kock dreamed of empowering the youth of South Africa and abroad. The local church was not fulfilling the call, thousands of young people and literally hundreds of schools were asking and begging for something new, something alternative.

Francois had the honor of being part of the ministry called, Dunamis Club, which was founded by Past. Theo Geysler in Pretoria, South Africa. Francois later took over the reins and started living almost a life long dream. Dunamis changed its name to Dunamis Outreach Ministries in 1993. They were extensively recognized throughout South Africa in schools, churches and even had television and radio-coverage. They were privileged to perform before and with artists like Carman, Steven Curtis Chapman, Margaret Becker, Scott Wesley Brown. Ministering on a part time basis for more than 7 years, the ministry divided into smaller individual movements.

Francois moved on to a new assembly but still the dream kept knocking...in the following two years plans for a future full time ministry school were drawn up, but due to a lack of funds the "Dream" was postponed once again! In 1998 Francois and his wife Corné moved to Cape Town, South Africa as a Youth Pastor of a Macro Church, the dream still warm in his heart.

After eight months in Cape Town, it happened! The dream came true.

We had lift off and in January 1999 Pneumatix School of Ministry opened its doors for the first time with full time students! Its own student house and transport!

Pneumatix currently consists of 58 full time students divided into three teams. All teams tour South Africa. Each team consists of 20 young people who perform and minister through the Arts, in schools, churches, technikons, etc. Each team is fully equipped with state of the art sound and lighting to bring across a relevant and uncompromising message to our generation.
